

Private Sector Perspectives on Climate Resilience

November

14

7:00 P.M.
LE MERIDIEN HOTEL N'FIS

Bringing together thought leaders from the private sector and international financial institutions, the panel will examine challenges and opportunities facing private actors in the arena of climate resilience. Panelists will provide insights into the latest developments in technology, finance and the entrepreneur community on how the private sector can turn climate risks into opportunities and contribute to greater social and economic resilience.

We hope you can join us for this timely discussion and fruitful networking at the cocktail reception after this panel.

Opening Remarks:

- Amal-Lee Amin, Chief Climate Change Division of the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB)

Panelists:

- Emilie Mazzacurati, Founder and CEO, Four Twenty Seven
- Jay Koh, Founder & Chair, Global Adaptation & Resilience Investment Working Group (GARI)
- James McMahon, CEO, The Collider
- Mari Yoshitaka, Chief Consultant of Clean Energy Finance Division Mitsubishi UFJ Morgan Stanley Securities
- Amal-Lee Amin, Chief Climate Change Division of the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB)